

WAR IN BALKANS IMMINENT

Austria Is Massing Troops on the Montenegrin Frontier.

Adespatch from Paris says: It is held in official circles here that the Balkan situation, on account of the irreconcilable attitude of Austria-Hungary, has now reached its most acute stage and that the next few days will decide between peace and war.

The efforts of Great Britain, France and Russia to present a formula acceptable to Baron Von Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian Minister of Foreign Affairs, having failed, Austria-Hungary is expected forthwith to deliver an ultimatum at Belgrade. After this, if Serbia refuses to make a complete surrender, no doubt exists in Paris that Austria-Hungary will despatch an army across the Servian frontier. The Eclair on Friday announced that the absent officers belonging to the French regiments on the eastern frontier, have been recalled. The Minister of War admits that "certain precautionary measures have been taken on account of the tension of the present European situation."

WEeping WIVES AND SISTERS

A new York Herald correspondent cables a description of scenes at Zara and Fiume, where Austria is making active preparations for war. At Fiume, he says soldiers and reservists are arriving continually and are immediately embarked on fast steamships of the Ungaro-Croata Navigation Company Company for the Gulf of Cattaro. This gulf is close to the Montenegrin frontier and within easy striking distance of Cetinje.

At each departure, both at Fiume and Zara, thousands gather around and salute the departing soldiers. Heartrending scenes are to be witnessed everywhere. Weeping wives with babies in their arms, sisters and mothers crowd the quays. Similar emotion is shown by the soldiers, for all are under the impression that they are going to war.

Fashion Hints.

FADS AND FANCIES.

Many of the new waists open in front.

Hats should be, above all, "sleender looking."

Flowers have largely taken the place of feathers.

There is quite a vogue for Turkish lace at present.

The new Pierrots are decidedly flimsy in appearance.

Of the double width modish satins there is an endless display.

Gloves and shoes are being matched to the gowns more than ever.

All sorts of odd and quaint trimmings seem to be coming into play. The directoire tunic of real lace is new and exceedingly pretty.

The directoire satins are to be had in all the lovely new colors.

Art ticking, braided in fancy designs, is much used for bureau covers.

French and Japanese cotton crepes are as popular on hats as for waists.

Some crude colors appear, notably a vivid mustard and heavy garish tan.

All the blues are to be popular, up to the faintest Marie Antoinette tint.

Plain colored satin ribbons, made into rosettes, are a fad of the moment.

The buttons of mirror glass are lovely and are quite refined if not too large.

Strings serving no practical purpose will be a feature of the new millinery.

Austrian crochet lace is much used, especially for dollies and tray cloths.

Yedda braid scarfs will be used as drapery on many of the new spring hats.

Shirred linings of soft satin often finish the brims of some of the smartest hats.

Straight and narrow skirts will be fashionable as the summer advances.

One of the fancies for the new season will be all over soutache for yokes and sleeves.

Embroidered linen turnovers and Dutch collars of linen or lace are here in charming variety.

Little princess tunics are being worn, mostly with side opening, and buttoning nearly to the hem.

A new idea in hair ornaments is an adaptation of the old fashioned back comb worn by children.

White trimmings, such as braid, buttons, etc., will be used freely on colored gowns and coats.

All-over soutached net yokes and guimpes are an exceedingly popular finish to the one piece dress.

The crepe de chins are as good as ever, ranging from the simplest to the richest, mostly satiny weaves.

With the coming of summer fluffy ruffles will take the place of the severely classical vogue in toilets.

Linen Dutch collars with two rows and an edge of real cluny insertion and an edge of lace are stylish.

The princess dress of last year is remodeled this season with long sleeves and a short waist effect.

Bib effects are one of the often repeated characteristics of the pre-

UNCLE DAN'S BEAR STORY.

"Well," said Uncle Dan, when the children teased for a story, "since you all want something different, I think I shall have to decide myself. How would you like to have me tell you about a bear that has frightened more people than any other in the world, and that frightened me lots and lots of times?"

"O-o-o-o! Goody!" cried all of them together.

"It's about a grizzly bear," said Lyman.

"No, a polar bear," guessed Lizzie.

"I think it's a cinnamon bear," declared Bob.

Uncle Dan laughed. "No," he said, "it isn't any one of those bears. It's a kind of bear you never heard of—a bear that has very strange habits, and is different from any other bear in the world. "In the first place, this bear is found all over the country, not only in wild places in the woods and mountains, but even more often near log houses and little villages, and especially about old pastures where you go to drive the cows in the morning and to get them again at night.

"The strangest thing about this kind of bear is that you never see him in the daytime or in the morning, but only when it has begun to get dark a little at evening, and on nights when there is just a tiny bit of moon.

"When I was a boy I had to take my father's cows to pasture every morning and go after them every night. I never met one of these bears in the morning, but sometimes I would see three or four in a single evening, and they would frighten me so that I would run all the way home."

"Did they chase you, Uncle Dan, a bear at all! It's just an old stump that you think is a bear, like that one near the spring, up at grandpa's!"

"Yes," admitted Uncle Dan, "that is what I meant. I knew you had seen them, too!"—Youth's Companion.

ACCIDENT AT BOWMANVILLE.

The Engineer Bravely Stuck to His Post.

A despatch from Bowmanville, Ont., says: A serious accident occurred about three hundred yards west of the G. T. R. station on Friday morning, when the flyer from Montreal, engine No. 989, in charge of Engineer David McKibbin, of Toronto, Fireman Almon Arnold, and Conductor R. Norton, ran into an engine and caboose, which had been on the front end of a freight train, which had not cleared the main track. The engine had been taking water, and was returning to the siding. The flyer was due here about 6.30 o'clock, and was about half an hour late. This train does not stop here, and, therefore, had the right of way. The freight train engine No. 745, was in charge of Engineer Zimmerman, and had a caboose on each end. Engineer McKibbin stuck to his post and applied the brakes, but not in time to avert an accident. How he escaped alive is a miracle. Fireman Arnold jumped, and his face was badly cut, and one ear nearly taken off. The engine of the flyer was turned over on its right side, and its tender and baggage car, as well as the engine and caboose of the freight train, left the track, the steam chest of the freight engine being torn off. Had the accident occurred a little farther east the wrecked engine and cars would have gone into the creek. As it was the passengers only suffered from shock.

my father's cows to pasture every morning and go after them every night. I never met one of these bears in the morning, but sometimes I would see three or four in a single evening, and they would frighten me so that I would run all the way home."

"Did they chase you, Uncle Dan, or did you shoot them, or scare them away?"

"No dear, I don't think any of them ever chased me, though I ran too hard to see; and I am sure I never shot one, partly because I had no gun with me then, and partly because this kind of bear is so hard and tough that a bullet doesn't hurt him at all; nor can you scare him away. He will not run from anybody, no matter how much you shoot or how loud a noise your gun makes. He just stays right there."

"How big are they, and what color?" asked Lyman, whose eyes were round with interest and excitement.

"They are all sizes," said Uncle Dan, "sometimes not any larger than a Newfoundland dog, sometimes as tall as a big man; but they are always dark-colored—almost black, and they are always standing very still."

"The place where you are most likely to see them is in the shadows near trees, and in fence corners, and along the edges of old pastures."

"Well, but, Uncle Dan," began Rob, eagerly, "if you can't shoot them and can't drive them away, what can you do with this kind of bears? Do you always have to run away from them? I think that is cowardly."

"No, my boy," answered Uncle Dan, with a smile, "there is another way. If you are brave enough to go right up to one of these bears and touch him with your hand, he will never hurt you, but will disappear at once—so quickly that you can't see him go. That is the only thing to do, but I didn't find it out for a long time—until I was almost grown up."

"But what is the strange bear?" asked Lizzie, with a puzzled look on her face. "What is the name of it?"

"Why, they call it the stump bear," answered Uncle Dan, laughing. "And, as I said, he has frightened more persons, especially small boys and girls, than any other kind of animal." And Uncle Dan laughed.

For a second the children did not know what to think. Then Lizzie burst into a joyous laugh. "I know what it is!" she cried. "It isn't

THREE HUNDRED MURDERS.

Committed by a Russian Woman in the Last Thirty Years.

A despatch from St. Petersburg says: Charged with having committed some three hundred murders, a woman named Propova has been arrested at Samara. During the last thirty years, it appears, the woman has made a practice of ridding captious wives of their husbands by means of poison. She charged a small fee, and is said to have executed her commissions with much despatch. One of her clients, tormented by remorse, has now denounced her. Mme. Popova has confessed to having committed the murders, but protests that she did excellent work in freeing unhappy wives from their tyrants. She never murdered a woman. A mob sought to seize her and burn her at the stake, but was prevented by the police.

FELL DOWN A SHAFT.

London Fireman Fatally Injured While on Duty.

A despatch from London, Ont., says: Assistant Fire Chief Scott was fatally injured on Thursday night by falling down an elevator shaft during a fire in the fur store of Edward Beltz on Dundas street. The fire, which originated in the basement among some rubbish, filled the whole building with dense smoke, and it is thought that Scott was blinded by it. It was his night off duty, and nobody knew he was in the building until his cries for help brought his comrades to his rescue. He has a wife and three children, has belonged to the brigade five years, and was appointed Assistant Chief four months ago. The stock was badly damaged by smoke and water.

EIGHT WORKMEN KILLED.

Imperial Government Expresses Gratitude to New Zealand.

A despatch from London says: Great Britain has accepted the offer made by New Zealand to give the Empire, free of cost, a fully equipped Dreadnought. Announcing the acceptance of this gift in the House of Commons, on Wednesday, Mr. Asquith read the telegram sent to New Zealand, expressing the Government's "warmest gratitude for this generous and patriotic offer." Continuing, Mr. Asquith said:—"So far as the com-

The princess dress of last year is remodeled this season with long sleeves and a short waist effect. Bib effects are one of the often repeated characteristics of the present day gown of almost any description. The new silks are superb. Lace and patterned net are just now liked better than the plain net, which has had such long and strenuous use. It is a foregone conclusion that we shall have tunic effects and more tunic effects during the coming season. Dainty shirt waists are being shown made of printed white shirting and trimmed with borders of the same effect.

CATTLE MARKET.

Toronto, March 30. — Export cattle were in firm demand and realized as high as $5.70 in two or three instances, but these were exceptional cases, $5 to $5.50 may be taken as the general average. Butcher cattle of the choice variety are as keenly sought after as ever, whilst the supply fell far short of the demand. Well-finished cattle were none too plentiful, although there was some improvement in quality; the bulk of the cattle were in poor condition. Stockers and feeders—In fair demand, but the supply limited. Calves—Firm and unchanged. Sheep and lambs—Fair demand and slightly lower. Hogs—Weak. Select at $6.80 to $6.90 f.o.b., and $7.10, fed and watered.

THREE KILLED IN WRECK.

Train Took Wrong Track and Collision Followed.

A despatch from Brandon, Manitoba, says: A disastrous head-on collision, resulting in three C. P. R. employees being instantly launched into eternity, took place on Saturday at a point about a mile and a half west of here. The dead are Engineer Hiram Hodgson, Fireman W. J. Perchley, and Brakeman Thos. Leach, all of Brandon. The Estevan local passenger train pulled out of the depot at 1.50 p.m. under charge of Conductor Macan, with orders to run to Kemnay, on the south track. By some means these orders were not carried out, and the train was switched onto the north track just west of the depot. About a mile farther on the line curves through a cutting, and at this point the train had attained a good speed when it was met by a heavy east-bound freight, running from forty to fifty miles an hour. The impact was terrific, the smaller engine of the passenger train being crushed like a paper box. The two engines were firmly wedged together, and the tender of the passenger locomotive and express car, together with five freight cars, mostly loaded with wheat, were ditched and reduced to splinters. The engineer and fireman of the local were fearfully mangled.

A CHILD OF WATERLOO.

Death at Detroit of Mrs. Mary Ann Sullivan.

A despatch from Detroit says: Mrs. Mary Ann Sullivan, who was born on the field of Waterloo while the battle was raging, died at St. Luke's Hospital on Wednesday, where she had lived for the past eleven years. She had been ill only a week, old age being the cause of her death. Her father was a British soldier, and her mother was one of the two women allowed to accompany each company. York King Edward some time ago caused an investigation to be made into Mrs. Sullivan's claim that she was the only living woman who was born on the field, and vouched for its correctness. Mrs. Sullivan and her husband lived for some time in Montreal, the latter afterwards dying in London, Ont.

AN INSANE IMMIGRANT.

Government Taking Action Against the C. P. R.

A despatch from St. John, N. B., says: The Interior Department of the Dominion Government is proceeding against the C. P. R. on a charge of bringing to Canada an insane immigrant without stating his condition. The man is a Russian Finn brought here on the steamship Empress of Britain last month and deported on the same steamer. While here he became quite violent and caused damage in the immigration building. Complaint was made at the Police Court on Wednesday and a summons will be issued. It is said the C. P. R. will fight the case.

TWO CENTS A MILE.

Grand Trunk Will Conform to the Law at Once.

A despatch from Montreal says: The next few days will see the establishment of a third-class passenger service at two cents per mile on the Grand Trunk Railway between Montreal and Toronto. Mr. R. S. Logan, assistant to the General Manager of the G. T. R., stated on Friday that there would be an official announcement made during the course of the next two or three days, and that the matter was now before the passenger department. One car would be put on at first.

BRITAIN AS A SEA POWER.

Strength Compared With That of Other Nations.

In an article in The Naval Annual on the comparative naval strength of the great powers, T. A. Brassey tells that at the end of 1908 Britain had 50 battleships of the first class, the United States 22, Germany 20, France 13 and Japan 11. Of Britain's 43, six are Dreadnoughts. No other nation possesses any completed ships of this class, though Japan has two almost ready to go into commission, while Germany and the United States will each have two completed by the end of the present year.

Of second class battleships and coast defence ships Britain has 11, United States 6, Germany 9, France 11 and Japan 3.

Britain has 42 cruisers of the first class, 27 of the second, and 46 of the third. The United States has 11 of the first class, 3 of the second and 11 of the third. Germany has 6 each of the first and second classes and 20 of the third. France has 11 of the first class, 13 of the second, and 22 of the third. Japan has 9 of the first class, 4 of the second and 13 of the third. Of Britain's first class cruisers three are Invincibles, which are almost equal to battleships in strength. No other nation has any of these ships in commission. Germany's first one was launched this week.

By some unknown accident the lad had fallen into the swollen stream, and was exhausted, having gone down twice, when Mrs. Bear, who first saw him from the Dundas street bridge, dashed into the icy water and seized the sinking lad. Levi Plank of the Dennis Wire Works, came to Mrs. Bear's help, and the boy was brought to land. It was a long time, however, before the child regained consciousness.

TO DRILL YOUNG CANADA

Lord Strathcona's Patriotic Offer to the Dominion Government.

A despatch from Ottawa says: Amid great enthusiasm and loud applause from both sides of the House Sir Frederick Borden announced on Wednesday afternoon that Lord Strathcona had established a trust fund to yield $10,000 per annum to encourage and promote the physical and military training (including practice in rifle shooting) of the youth attending the Public schools of Canada. For this purpose a cheque for $250,000 will be forwarded upon the acceptance of the gift. The House at once passed a unanimous resolution tendering to Lord Strathcona the thanks of the House of Commons and of the people of Canada.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in moving the resolution, said that Lord Strathcona had rendered many services to Canada, but none, he believed, of greater importance than the present one. He hoped and believed that the system now initiated would cause physical training to become a part of the education of all the boys and girls of Canada.

Mr. R. L. Borden seconded the motion. Lord Strathcona's offer, he said, would be received with feelings of the deepest appreciation, not only by the members of the House regardless of party, but by all patriotic citizens. The action of Lord Strathcona was entirely in harmony with the many patriotic actions which had distinguished his wonderful career. Mr. Borden had no doubt that the worthy object which his Lordship had in view would be stimulated to a great extent by the foundation of the trust.

Sir Frederick Borden, after reading the letter from Lord Strathcona explaining the objects of the donation and a plan for the administration of the fund, said that he had telegraphed his Lordship accepting his offer and suggesting that the fund be known as the "Strathcona Trust," of which the Governor-General would be patron, and the Prime Minister, vice patron, as the donor had desired.

FOR A COLONIAL MARKET

THE SUGGESTION OF AN ENGLISH NEWSPAPER.

No Shops in London Where One Can be Sure of Getting Colonial Goods.

A writer in The London Express suggests that the various colonies of Great Britain, which spend large sums yearly in advertising their products, should establish one or more shops in some great thoroughfare where the colonial products may be well displayed, cheaply priced, and available for one and all to buy, try, and come again. This, he submits, would in the end be more useful than numerous colonial exhibitions and regiments of colonial officials in palatial office buildings.

CAN'T BUY OUR PRODUCE.

There are, he says, at least half a dozen colonial shows or museums permanently open in London, all excellently arranged and displaying the different products of the colony to the best advantage. One is tempted by the cases of jams, honey, turtle, fruit, meat, and a hundred and one other things, tasty, useful, cheap, well packed, and thoroughly available for general domestic use. But go into any big shop in London or the country and ask for any one article of colonial produce, and the chances are a hundred to one, or more, that you will not get it.

The colonial representatives, good, worthy, estimable men one and all, fight shy of the retail trade, or else have no power to push the goods which they show and recommend. Their exhibitions, therefore, form a trading point of view, defeat their own ends. One's mouth waters at the delicacies displayed; and one then finds that

HEALTH

THE NOSE.

The nose, the most conspicuous feature of the human face, has always been regarded with great interest from an esthetic point of view, but it is within a comparatively recent period that its importance in the matter of health has been recognized.

Its external configuration goes far to make or mar beauty of feature, and considered from the point of view of health, its internal conformation is of even more significance.

The inside of the nose is divided into two compartments by a thin plate of bone and cartilage, called the septum. The outer wall of each of these cavities has three projecting ledges, formed of curved plates of bone covered with a loose membrane containing a great number of blood-vessels. Opening into the nasal cavity on each side are several hollow spaces in the bones of the face, all lined with mucous membrane and containing air.

The nerves of smell are located in the mucous membrane which lines the nostrils, and when inflammation of the membrane occurs, as in a cold in the head, this sense is more or less destroyed for the time being.

The most important function of the nose is that of the breathing organ. The curved plates of bone serve to increase the surface covered with mucous membrane, so that the air in passing over it is warmed and moistened, and so rendered fit to enter the bronchial tubes and lungs. It is also filtered and freed from dust and from the many disease-germs which it carries. The dust and microbes are caught on the moist surface, and are carried back to the entrance of the nostrils in a current caused

MAURICE RYAN TO HANG.

Man Who Murdered His Brother Near North Bay.
A despatch from North Bay says: Judge Latchford on Thursday morning sentenced Maurice Ryan to be hanged on June 3rd next for the murder of his brother, Francis Joseph Ryan, on or about November 18th, 1907. The Judge was visibly affected in addressing the prisoner, to whom he could hold out no hope of Executive clemency. The prisoner listened to his Lordship's remarks with closed eyes, and at the end sank to his seat, sobbing audibly, with his head in his hands.

Militia Will Be Equipped With Improvement This Spring.
A despatch from Ottawa says: The Militia Department will issue the Sutherland rifle sights this spring. These sights do away with the use of a vernier, and are equipped with a wind gauge. There will be a sufficient number to equip all the Lee-Enfield rifles now in the possession of the Canadian militia. The new sights will replace the present sights, which have on wind gauge, and with which a vernier must be used.

HAULED DOWN HIS FLAG.

Lord Charles Beresford Retires From British Navy.
A despatch from London says: Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, Commander of the Channel fleet, hauled down his flag at Portsmouth on Wednesday, thus bringing to an end fifty years of active service. He was given a rousing send-off by some 10,000 enthusiastic friends and admirers who had gathered around the dockyard gates. The Admiral is now a free lance, and it is expected that he will take an active part in the agitation for a big navy.

EIGHT BURNED TO DEATH.

A despatch from Fort Worth, Texas, says: Reports received here on Wednesday from Wise county, 30 miles north of here, say that a terrific electrical storm swept that country, and that a farmer, his wife and five children and a farm hand were burned to death in a fire which followed. The town of Slidell is reported practically destroyed. Only two houses were left standing in Slidell. Twenty persons are reported to have been injured.

that you may not get it.
The colonial representatives, good, worthy, estimable men one and all, fight shy of the retail trade, or else have no power to push the goods which they show and recommend. Their exhibitions, therefore, form a trading point of view, defeat their own ends. One's mouth waters at the delicacies displayed; and one then finds that there is no chance of being protectively patriotic, and spending hard cash on colonial products. In default, therefore, one buys

AMERICAN GOODS.

The colonies must start their own shops in London first, and then in the more important provincial towns, or, what would be the ideal plan, they should combine (if for once agreement were pleasantly possible) and open a large colonial market right in the heart of London, where every colonial product would be on sale, and where one might buy dugong and beche-de-mer from Queensland; honey, mutton, and butter from other parts of Australia; apples, maple sugar, and fish from Canada; jams, pines, sugar and tea from Natal; mebos, snoek, and van der Hum from the Cape; mealies and tobacco from the Transvaal; rum from Jamaica—and so on, right through the whole gamut of colonial produce.

SUITORS RISKED LIVES.

Prussian Damsel Punished for her Heartlessness.

The lord of Kienast castle in Prussia, so the legend runs, had a lovely daughter, Cunigunda, who was a hard-hearted damsel. She vowed to accept no man as her suitor who could not ride round the top of the outer wall of her father's castle. Kienast castle is perched on a rock isolated from the body of the mountains, and its walls rise from the brink of nearly perpendicular precipices. Cunigunda had many lovers, but after her startling decision the greater number discreetly withdrew and the few more daring spirits who attempted the feat were dashed to pieces in the abyss. One day a knight came to Kienast whose presence and manners interested Cunigunda so much that she repented of her vow, and, when he insisted on carrying out the daring ride, she begged him to desist. He refused, and, to her great joy, performed the exploit safely, but as her lover dismounted and she rushed forward to throw herself into his arms he gave her a sound box on the ears, and leaping to his horse, left her forever. The somewhat cavalier knight was the Landgrave Albert of Thuringia, who, in order to punish Cunigunda for her cruelty, had previously practised his steed in this dangerous exercise.

THE ROD FOR TRUANTS.

Kingston Boys Receive Whipping at Hands of Police.

A despatch from Kingston, Ont., says: Two schoolboys, aged 13 and 11, were, on the orders of Magistrate Farrell, whipped by the police on Friday morning for truancy. They attended Cataragui Public School, and were more or less conspicuous by their absence. The elder confessed to breaking into the schoolhouse the other day and stealing a large quantity of lead pencils.

ered with mucous membrane, so that the air in passing over it is warmed and moistened, and so rendered fit to enter the bronchial tubes and lungs. It is also filtered and freed from dust and from the many disease-germs which it carries. The dust and microbes are caught on the moist surface, and are carried back to the entrance of the nostrils in a current caused by the constant downward movement of microscopic hair-like projections on the mucous membrane.

This explains in part the evils that result from mouth-breathing, for then the air is neither warmed nor purified, and on entering the bronchial tubes it causes congestion. This in turn lessens the resisting power, which all mucous membranes possess, against the action of disease-germs.

Catarrhal inflammations, diphtheria, tuberculosis, and other respiratory diseases are much more likely to attack those who, through habit or necessity, breathe largely through the mouth.

Obstruction of one nostril, such as occurs when the septum projects to one side or when there are tumors, called polypi, or other swellings of the mucous membrane, puts too much work on the free nostril. Its membrane becomes congested, and catarrh results. This obstruction may be only temporary and may right itself, but when it is permanent it is necessary to remove it by operation as a measure of protection to the general health.—Youth's Companion.

AID TO EXHAUSTED NERVES.

Shutting one's eyes is a wonderful assistance to exhausted nerves. To do this at home, when conditions are not such as to permit lying down, is far better than always having the lids wide apart and unconsciously looking at some object. The strain of a busy day downtown will be tremendously relieved if a girl will take five minutes of her lunch hour and in a dressing room or other comparatively quiet place close her eyes. She must not make the mistake, however, of passing the whole of this five minutes looking at her watch to see if time is up, for in that way she will get nothing but fatigue from the effort.

COLD IN THE EYE.

During muggy weather it often happens that an attack of cold manifests itself in the eye. The first symptoms are a feeling of smarting irritation, as though a piece of sand or grit had entered, then the eye itself becomes bloodshot. Strong light, wind, and cold air should be avoided. To prevent the cementing of the eyelid in the morning a little olive oil should be smeared overnight. The only remedy permissible in domestic practice is to use a little lint dipped in tepid water or a diluted solution of boracic.

THOMPSON SENTENCED.

Amherstburg Colored Boy Who Killed His Father.

A despatch from Windsor, Ont., says: Fifteen-year-old William Thompson, the colored boy who shot and killed his father during a family quarrel near Amherstburg several months ago, pleaded guilty to manslaughter before Justice Teetzel at Sandwich on Thursday afternoon, and was sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

By numerous tests by the best Bakers the above mentioned grades have been proven to be the best Flours in the market. When buying Flour ask for Dafe's, and patronize your home mill, thereby producing Bran and Shorts that you can purchase cheaper than the product of the Western mills, which has to be transported thousands of miles at great expense, and usually, when it reaches you, of inferior quality.

The grocer complains if the farmer or the mechanic sends to Toronto or to outside points for an article he can get at the home store just as good, but he does not hesitate to buy Flour from mills hundreds of miles away, and sell you an inferior Flour for more money than you can purchase the home product for, every bag of which is guaranteed.

Yacht Racing.

A large and representative meeting of the Trenton Yacht Club was held to make preliminary arrangements for the regatta to be held there on August 9th, under the auspices of the Eastern Yacht Racing Circuit. A great deal of enthusiasm prevailed, and the races as well as the entertainment of visiting yachtsmen, came in for a fair share of discussion. Cape Vincent has been selected as the starting point for the cruising race of the L. Y. R. A., winding up at Cobourg on August 3rd. Arrangements are being made for a cruising race on August 7th, immediately after the big regatta at Cobourg from the latter town to Presque Isle, after which on Monday, the 9th, the annual regatta of the E.L.Y.R.C., will be held at Trenton. Rev. F. W. Armstrong is Commodore, and the circuit includes such clubs as Oswego, Clayton, Watertown, Kingston, Gananoque, Belleville, Picton, and Napanee.

The purity, flavor and strength of "Salada" Tea make it incomparably the best value on the market. It is infinitely more delicious and decidedly more economical than other teas.

Mr. Mark Pizzariello while in Toronto last week purchased a car load of fruit, oranges, cocoanuts &c. He also purchased a peanut roaster and heater and a pop corn roaster to add to his establishment.

On Friday evening last, the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church held its quarterly social gathering, in the basement of the church. In place of the usual programme of songs and music, the male members of the congregation consented to render the programme, and this they did in the form of a "mock parliament." They carried out their arguments in parliamentary style with some funny and laughable innovations, which kept the audience in great good humor for the whole evening. Refreshments were served at the close, and everybody went away well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Saturday was millinery opening day in Napanee and although the weather was not very spring-like, it did not keep the ladies from viewing the new spring and summer creations. The millinery parlors' managers exerted themselves to show their patrons what the styles for the coming season would be. As usual the styles are vastly different from those of a year ago. This season the hats are all on the large flat style, with trimmings flat and drooping. At first sight the exclamations were heard, "Oh, how terrible I would look in a hat of that size!" but what a difference when they tried on the hat and observed the effect.

On Saturday, March 20th, Tweed lost one of its most respected citizens, and the Roman Catholic church, one of its ablest and most devoted supporters, by the death of Mrs. William Breen. Although she had been in poor health for some time, yet her demise came suddenly and unexpectedly. It was indeed a shock to her relatives and friends, and the surrounding community, to hear of her death. Deceased was industrious and much respected by those who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, and from the midst of a life of activity and usefulness, she was called suddenly and quietly away, at noon on Saturday, having succumbed to an attack of tuberculosis. Her funeral cortege, on Monday, one of the largest ever seen in Tweed, followed the remains from St. Catharine Roman Catholic church in Tweed, where a solemn requiem mass had been sung by Rev. Father Quinn, to the Stoco vault. Mrs. Breen was a daughter of Mrs. Thomas Cunningham, of Napanee, and besides her sorrowing mother, leaves a husband and four small children to mourn her loss.

"Joshua Simpkins" will be the attraction at the Brisco Opera House on Thursday, April 8th. It is a well written pastoral play, with an interesting plot, the story being a happy blending of sunshine and shadow. The situations are strikingly realistic with an overflow of fun and amusement. There are several comedy parts in addition to that of Uncle Josh, which character is a whole show in itself. A sensational novelty is introduced in the third act in the shape of a realistic saw-mill scene, in which a monster circular saw is used, and which is said to actually saw through real timber. A fine orchestra is carried by the company, also a fine band of music, which will make a burlesque parade about noon. Plan open at Hawley and Maybee's on Tuesday, April 6th, at 10 a. m., prices 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Opera House To-Night.

With all the hue and cry about the immorality of the stage, certain plays of the type of "The Old Homestead," "Shore Acres," "Human Hearts," etc., continue to grow in popularity. Instead of receiving adverse criticism from the pulpit, the management of "Human Hearts" continually receive letters from leading clergymen throughout the country, praising it for its heart interest and the beautiful moral story it tells making an evening well spent for all who see it. The old adage that "a good man should marry none but a good woman" was never more truly illustrated in fiction, than in "Human Hearts." No dramatic author has ever given to the stage a more idyllic character than "Tom Logan", a big, whole-souled son of the soil, one of "nature's own noblemen," who has fallen into the snare of a city adventuress and is only saved from ruin and destruction through the prayers of a loving mother, a little child, and the love of a pure, innocent girl, the sweetheart of his boyhood days.

A Live Daily Paper Will Put Money in Your Pocket.

With The Toronto Daily Star's accurate daily market reports you could sell your grain and live stock at top-notch prices. Half a cent extra on just 300 bushels of wheat or oats would pay a year's subscription. 25c. a hundred weight on a dozen hogs would cover three years' subscriptions.

Don't you, depending on weekly reports, or daily reports that are old when you get them—miss top prices by at least that much several times a year?

ROD AND GUN.

The first sight of the fine cover of the excellent Spring, (April) Fishing Number of ROD AND GUN IN CANADA, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., will stir the blood of the thousands of fishermen throughout the Dominion and start them on the congenial work of preparing for the coming fray. The long and varied nature of the contents of the number, in which fish and fishing topics predominate, will still further stimulate them, and the opening of the fishing season will probably see an increase in the angler's ranks as one result of the interest aroused through the wide dissemination of these stories.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggist.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and Urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night, curing even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.
